

WOMAN JAILED FOR BOGUS £750K CLAIM

Said she was left severely disabled after tripping over paving slab

A WOMAN who tried to claim £750,000 in compensation by pretending that she had been left severely disabled after tripping on a paving slab has been given a three-month jail sentence.

Barbara Fari, 60, said that she needed intensive care and help from her husband following the fall outside her home in Lightfoot Road, Hornsey.

And she tried to claim £750,000 from Homes for Haringey as a result.

But at a hearing in October last year a judge ruled that Fari's injuries should have generated only about £1,500 in compensation and threw out her case, saying that she had tried to deceive the court.

As a result, Haringey Council and Homes for Haringey took legal action against Fari, who was found guilty of contempt of court.

And at the High Court on Friday she was sentenced to three months in prison and told to pay costs of £100,000.

She will be jailed by the end of this month unless she lodges an appeal.

Her husband, Piper Fari, was sentenced to two months in prison, suspended for 12 months, after also being found guilty of contempt of court.

Fari's trial last month heard how medical experts agreed they had been misled about her original claims and that the extent of her disabilities were bogus.

They said that her injuries were merely the aggravation of an existing condition and would have lasted no more than three months.

Her husband had claimed that he was unable to work as he was forced to look after Fari full time.

Haringey Council leader Claire Kober welcomed the prison sentence.

She said: "We will never sit back and let dishonest people cost the taxpayer hundreds of thousands of pounds through false and overblown claims.

"Where we suspect wrongdoing, we will always investigate and press for the strongest penalties.

"The sentence handed down to Mr and Mrs Fari should be a stark warning to anyone tempted to exaggerate a personal injury claim faces time behind bars."

Supermarket sweep for Ledley

Trolley dash: Ledley King with Sainsbury's workers

FORMER Spurs and England star Ledley King was one of the first to do his shopping at a supermarket after opening the new branch of Sainsbury's in Tottenham.

Also at last Wednesday's opening of the supermarket, part of the Tottenham Hotspur stadium development in White Hart Lane, were Tottenham MP David Lammy and Spurs chairman Daniel Levy.

The store in Northumberland Park Road employs 280 people.

Spurs ambassador Mr King said: "It was great to be involved in the launch of the fantastic new store, which has created new jobs for local people in an area of high unemployment."

Man remanded

A FINSBURY Park man has been charged with eight offences in relation to an attempted armed robbery at a bookmaker's.

Derek Rossi, 58, is accused of attempted robbery, two counts of possession of a firearm, having a firearm with intent to commit an indictable offence, possession of a loaded shotgun in a public place, possession of a shotgun when prohibited for life, possession of ammunition for a shotgun when prohibited for life and possession on a firearm without a certificate.

The charges relate to an incident at the betting shop in Kingsway Holborn, central London, on Monday last week.

Rossi was remanded in custody when he appeared at Highbury Corner Magistrates' Court last Wednesday. He is due to appear at Blackfriars Crown Court next Tuesday.

Canver trial date

HARINGEY Council's former environment chief Nilgun Canver has been ordered to stand trial accused of perverting the course of justice.

The 56-year-old, from Harringay, was charged in August, after it is alleged she tried to take the blame after her son was involved in a car crash.

She later withdrew her statement and her legal team argued that the St Ann's ward councillor should instead face a charge of wasting police time.

But last week a judge at Wood Green Crown Court ruled that the former cabinet member should stand trial on Monday, January 20.

Ms Canver, who stepped down from her position after being charged, is currently suspended by the Labour Party.

Intimidating men given group Asbo

NINE men have been given antisocial behaviour orders banning them from an area around Turnpike Lane Tube station.

Denis Boneri, Izmir Ashiku and Siljean Lacaj, all 20, Arton Ahmetaj, Fatlum Shala and Behic Djanbaj, all 19, Alban Hetemi, 18, Albyon Kurti and Sebastian Mazurek, both 17, intimidated residents by drug dealing, drinking, fighting and spitting and using bad language in Ducketts Common.

Now a judge has ruled that the nine should be banned from Ducketts Common, Willoughby Road, West Green Road, High Road Wood Green, Wymark Avenue, Bury Road and the Sandlings Estate.

They are also barred from associating with each other in public places anywhere in Haringey, or associating with more than one member of the group in a public place in the rest of the country.

Richard Watson, Haringey Council's cabinet member for communities, said: "This group of men have been warned time and time again but have taken no responsibility.

"They've refused to change or clean up their act and now they'll have to face the consequences."

Not guilty plea

A MAN accused of killing PC Keith Blakelock during the Broadwater Farm Riots in 1985 has pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Nicholas Jacobs appeared at the Old Bailey on Thursday charged with murdering the police officer, 40, who was stabbed to death as he tried to protect firefighters tackling a supermarket blaze.

The 45-year-old was remanded in custody and a provisional trial date was set for March 4 next year.

Care home boss took five days to call ambulance for woman, 99

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlnews.co.uk

A CARE HOME manager who did not call an ambulance for a 99-year-old woman with a broken leg for five days escaped a jail sentence last week.

Shyla Reddy, 61, former manager of the Woodberry Grove Residential Care Home, in Wellington Road, Bush Hill

Park, was given a six-month suspended prison sentence.

She had pleaded guilty at Wood Green Crown Court on October 22 to breaches of the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 and was sentenced last Wednesday when she was also ordered to pay £3,000 towards Enfield Council's costs as well as a £120 victim surcharge.

The court heard that Lydia Riddler had sustained a fractured leg after she had been lifted badly and possibly dropped by a member of staff on April 6, 2011.

But an ambulance was not called until April 11 when Mrs Riddler's daughter noticed the injury and insisted that her mother received urgent medical care.

Mrs Riddler died in hospital 15 days after she had been admitted.

The court also heard that her records

Breach of safety rules: The Woodberry Grove care home

had been tampered with subsequently, specifically to cover up the delay and the fact that the care home manager had instructed staff about what to say to the police investigating the matter.

Reddy, of Arlington Road, Southgate, claimed during the trial that she knew nothing about Mrs Riddler's injuries, or the cover-up. She pleaded guilty on the limited grounds that she should have done more to find out how Mrs Riddler was when she discovered that a member of her staff might have caused the injury.

Cabinet member for environment Chris Bond said: "This crime showed a callous disregard for the safety of a vulnerable elderly person who must have been in excruciating pain. We expect employees of a care home to be trustworthy, reliable individuals, who treat their charges with dignity and consideration."

Cabinet member for adult services, care and health Don McGowan added: "We will not tolerate people who think it is appropriate to abuse the sick and elderly and will do everything we can to bring these individuals to justice."

Get ready to vote in council and Euro elections

RESIDENTS are being urged to register to vote and update their details, if necessary, so they can take part in next year's council and European elections.

Voters go to the polls in the local elections and to elect MEPs on Thursday, May 22.

Enfield Council's electoral services team is updating the electoral register and is urging all those aged over 18 to respond as soon as possible to the registration forms that have been distributed to all households in the borough.

People need to check the details on the register are correct and inform the council of any changes.

Electoral canvassers will begin making personal visits to homes in the next few weeks if a response to the forms has not been received, a situation the council wants to avoid as much as possible.

Peter Stanyon, Enfield's head of electoral services, said: "Almost half of households have responded and we need the other half to do so as soon as possible. Only those who are on the register can vote, so we are saying to the public – respond as soon as possible, we don't want anyone to miss the chance to vote."

If circumstances are unchanged, residents can respond online, by text or by phone. To find out more, visit www.enfield.gov.uk/getinvolved or call the council's election hotline on 020 8379 8582.

VETERANS, cadets, residents and councillors gathered to remember the fallen on Sunday.

On a crisp and bright afternoon more than 500 people took part in Enfield's Royal British Legion Parade to mark Remembrance Sunday.

Scouts, Guides and RAF, Royal Navy and police cadets joined former military personnel and dignitaries to march to Enfield Town's war memorial in Chase Green, Chase Side, for a service which included a two-minute silence as well as a wreath-laying ceremony.

Parade organiser Brendon Farrell, chairman of the legion's Enfield branch, said it was the best parade in years.

"There was a fantastic turnout with more than 500 people taking part in the parade and we gave out almost a thousand orders of service at the memorial," he said.

"We had the police cadets, two lots of Scouts, the Girl Guides – it was very good, the youngsters looked so smart. The dignitaries and the Lord Lieutenant were so surprised – he couldn't believe how many had turned out."

Mr Farrell agreed that it might have been next year's centenary of the start of the Great War that had helped to boost numbers as well as the favourable weather conditions.

"It's good for the veterans to see that this is for them, but it's also good for the youngsters, too," he added. "We really have to push it and teach people the history of England."

"This helps to bring the children up to date with what was happening at the time."

This Saturday, members of the Association of Jewish Ex-Servicemen and Women will hold a remembrance service at 11.15am at Southgate Synagogue, in Old Farm Avenue – and a service will take place in the afternoon outside Enfield Civic Centre, in Silver Street, at 3pm to commemorate Enfield's contribution to the World War II Arctic convoys.

New figures spark fears over winter crisis in A&E

By Koos Couvée

koos.couvee@nlhnews.co.uk

WAITING time figures released yesterday for patients using emergency services have raised fears that units in Enfield and Barnet will be stretched to breaking point this winter.

A report on A&E services by the London Assembly's Health Committee has found that the Barnet and Chase Farm NHS Hospitals Trust missed its target of treating 95 per cent of A&E patients within four hours in 45 weeks out of 52 during the past 12 months.

The trust, which administers Chase Farm Hospital, in The Ridgeway, Enfield, and Barnet Hospital, in Wellhouse Lane, High Barnet, was the fifth worst performing in London, treating 91 per cent of patients within four hours on average.

North Middlesex University Hospital, in Sterling Way, Edmonton, fared better, ranking 12th out of 22, missing the target during 29 weeks and treating on average of 94 per cent of A&E patients within four hours.

The figures have increased fears of an emergency crisis at North Middlesex and Barnet after the A&E unit at Chase Farm shuts next month.

Kieran McGregor, of the Save Chase Farm campaign, said: "Barnet and Chase Farm is widely missing A&E targets at a time when it is closing one of its facilities. Their argument that by closing one A&E it will increase capacity across other sites is ludicrous."

"Back in 2008 we said that population growth would increase demand and our worst fears have come true. They have to keep the Chase Farm A&E open and go back to the drawing board."

Under the BEH Clinical Strategy, maternity and inpatient paediatric services will move from Chase Farm next

Target missed: Chase Farm Hospital's accident and emergency department, which is due to close down on December 9

Wednesday and the A&E department will shut on December 9.

After those dates, patients will have to go to North Mid or Barnet, where services are being expanded.

Both trusts – Barnet and Chase Farm and North Mid – say that A&E performance will improve after the reconfiguration. Barnet and Chase Farm say that there are currently nine consultants in post, five at Barnet and four at Chase Farm. After the move all the consultants will be based at Barnet Hospital.

A spokesman for North Mid said: "We have recruited nurses and doctors ready for the expansion. We are expanding our service and cover on a daily basis in the build-up to the transfer when we will be running at full capacity from December 9."

In September, the Department of Health allocated £3.8million to North Mid and £5.1m to be shared across Barnet and Chase Farm to prepare for winter pressures.

Campaigners from the North East London Council of Action are expected to stage an occupation of Chase Farm tomorrow in protest against the closures.

Joy for Over 50s Forum in bid to stop 0844 calls

A PENSIONERS' pressure group is claiming a victory against the use of costly premium rate phone lines by GP surgeries in Enfield.

The Enfield Over 50s Forum has had a long-running campaign against practices using a pricey 0844 number for which patients are charged up to 44p a minute while booking an appointment or requesting test results.

Monty Meth, the forum's life president, paid tribute to members who had been lobbying up to 13 practices to stop using the numbers.

He said: "It has taken us six years to stop those GP practices that were in effect charging patients to make an appointment, which is in clear breach of the NHS principles which say health services should be universally available and free at the point of contact."

Last week it was reported that government departments have also been profiteering from premium-rate telephone numbers, including the Department for Work and Pensions, and HMRC.

MPs from the Public Accounts committee criticised the use of the numbers, saying taxpayers were being "ripped off".

Over-50s want rise in health funding

By Koos Couvee

koos.couvee@nlhnews.co.uk

CAMPAIGNERS have started a petition urging the government to increase the level of healthcare funding which Enfield receives.

Enfield Over-50s Forum, which lobbies decision makers on issues affecting the elderly, is petitioning Health Secretary Jeremy Hunt to increase public health funding allocated to the borough.

It also wants Mr Hunt to raise the level of funding available to the Enfield Clinical Commissioning Group, the body responsible for commissioning community and hospital care.

Monty Meth, life president of the forum, said: "Enfield gets £36 a head in public health funding, compared with a £128 for Westminster, for example. Our borough has always been underfunded and it is high time this is addressed."

Since April, local authorities have taken charge of a number of additional responsibilities previously administered by the NHS, including drug services, sexual health and health checks.

Enfield Council is receiving £11.8million over 2013/14, but has a funding target of £50 a head, which means it would need approximately £18m.

Currently the authority receives £36 per head, compared to £126 for Kensington & Chelsea, in west London. Neighbouring boroughs Haringey and Barnet get £62 and £35 per head respectively.

Mr Meth said that since the forum launched the petition at the save Chase Farm demonstration in Enfield three weeks ago, 4,000 people had signed online and in GP surgeries across the borough.

He added: "Our hospital trust is in deficit, and we believe there is every justification for Enfield to also get an increase in CCG funding, as we have an ageing and a growing population.

"With all the reorganisation going on in the health service, there is an opportunity to address the health inequalities in Enfield and beyond."

Alev Cazimoglu, chairwoman of the council's health and wellbeing scrutiny panel, said: "The money the CCG receives does not meet demand, and commissioners are under pressure to save money, which has a knock-on effect on hospital finances. The public health allocation is based on historic funding levels, but we have a growing population. The formula needs to be looked at urgently."

A Department of Health spokesman said that while funding levels were based on what was allocated in the past, money was increasingly targeted at areas with the worst problems.

He added: "We have made sure that no local authority receives less funding than they spent on public health in the past, so that we are ensuring they will be able to cover the costs of providing public health services for their communities."

The petition can be accessed online at www.enfieldover50sforum.org.uk

Two deny Bolombi murder

Teenager stabbed to death on way home from New Year's celebrations

By Ruth McKee
ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

TWO men are standing trial accused of the murder of a teenager who was stabbed to death in Edmonton five years ago.

Onique Nembhard, 25, and Jamar Graham, 25, are appearing at Snaresbrook Crown Court, in Wanstead, east London, accused of the murder of 17-year-old Henry Bolombi in Plevna Road on January 1, 2008.

Both men are Jamaican nationals with no fixed addresses in this country.

The teenager died after being stabbed through the chest in the early hours of New Year's Day when he was on his way home from a night out with friends.

Nembhard and Graham were arrested in January after they had been extradited from Jamaica.

They both deny the charges and the trial continues.

Fatally stabbed: Henry Bolombi

Thief steals Poppy Appeal collection tin from butcher's

POLICE are trying to identify a thief who took a Poppy Appeal collection box from an Edmonton butcher's shop.

A man entered Meat Inn Butchers in the North Mall of Edmonton Green shopping centre just after 11.30am on Monday last week.

He cut the ribbon attaching the charity box to the counter and left the shop.

Police would like to speak with the man pictured, who they believe can help with their investigation.

Officers have not made any arrests.

New-look store condemned for ignoring local produce

A FOODY has slammed a revamped supermarket run by an ethical shopping chain for failing to provide any fresh local produce.

The new-look Co-operative store in Lancaster Road, Enfield, reopened last Thursday following a £320,000 facelift after a rat infestation during the summer.

The shop was closed for four months and store manager Santhosh Subramaniam had pledged the supermarket would become a haven for food lovers. "The store will be packed with great-value, quality products and modern and interesting meal ideas that, while quick and easy to put together, are sure to impress," he said before the reopening.

However, despite the fact that their rivals down the road at Budgens stock fresh organic produce from the market garden at Forty Hall, the Co-operative does not provide locally-sourced produce.

Food blogger Anna Carr said she was "disappointed" that a company that prides itself on ethical and fair-trade values had ignored the "fantastic produce" lying on the doorstep.

She told the Advertiser: "I am really annoyed. They did a marketing campaign that said people in Enfield really care about their food. They made it sound like it was about quality produce and proper cooking, but when I walked in the doors last week I saw a bank of microwave hamburgers and hot dogs."

Ms Carr was particularly frustrated that the store had so little local produce when there is a thriving organic garden a mile from the shop.

"I find it particularly disappointing because the Co-op have such high moral ideals and they are selling processed food," added Ms Carr.

A Co-operative spokeswoman confirmed they do not stock local produce but that anyone interested in supplying the store could contact the company on 0800 0686 727.

Flustered gran goes without her shopping after till jams

By Koos Couvée

koos.couvee@nlhnews.co.uk

A HARD-UP woman had to feed her grandchildren beans on toast after a till error meant she left a supermarket without her shopping, even though she had paid.

Kathleen Brown, 61, of Folkestone Road, Edmonton, who suffers from arthritis in both legs, went shopping after her grandchildren Paige, six, and Archie, three, had arrived for a surprise weekend visit.

She had bought food and treats at Asda in Edmonton Green Shopping Centre and had paid a £75 bill with her bank card when she said the till roll jammed and she was told the payment had been declined.

She said the cashier then wrapped up the receipt and did not allow her to see it before asking her to try again.

"I had checked with my bank and my incapacity benefit had come in, so I knew I had enough money in my account," she told the Advertiser.

"But the shop assistant refused to show me the receipt. When I tried paying again, my card was declined – obviously.

"The worst thing was she then accused me of putting the first receipt in my pocket, which I hadn't.

"She kept banging her hand on the receipt saying my payment had been declined. I got worked up and just left without my shopping."

Having confirmed with her bank that the payment had been made, Ms Brown returned to the store the following day and received an apology.

Asda said a system error had made it appear as if the first payment had not gone through.

A spokesman said: "As soon as the store realised there had been an error we rectified the issue.

"Colleagues completed shopping on her behalf and presented her with a bunch of flowers and a £10 gesture of goodwill."

Ms Brown accepted Asda had tried to rectify the situation but still felt aggrieved. "The way I was spoken to was disgusting," she added.

Edmonton County School

Learning and Achievement for All

On Thursday 26th September, over 150 year 12 and 13 students, plus staff from Edmonton County School embarked on a team-building trip to the heart of Paris.

With many places to visit and activities to take part in over the three days and two nights, it was an action packed adventure. Having descended at the Ibis Hotel in Montmartre late Thursday night, getting up at 6:30 the next morning proved to be a shock to the system! However, bleary eyed but ready to take on the day's excitement, we set off for our first activity of the trip. Throughout our stay we had several challenges to complete, and with prizes at stake, our competitive streaks certainly kicked in.

Each group had their own team mascot, and we managed to take an amazing amount of creative shots of our Pierre le Bear around the city! Armed with our useful but basic French phrases and distant memories of GCSE French, we endeavoured to communicate with staff in museums and attractions, in shops buying obligatory souvenirs, and most important of all, feeding ourselves in restaurants and cafés.

With the purpose of this trip being to bond with our peers, I can honestly say that over this short period of time friendships were strengthened across the year groups. Having been given enough independence in order to fend for ourselves, we achieved far more than we would've believed, and returned home full of confidence, ready for the challenges we have yet to come!

The ADVERTISER COMMENT

Judge deals blow to Chase Farm fight

THE battle for Chase Farm seems to have been lost, after a High Court judge threw out Enfield Council's legal challenge against the downgrade of the hospital.

But while the authority's legal case may not have been strong enough, the case for keeping Chase Farm's A&E department open grows by the day.

A report by the London Assembly published this week revealed the extent of London's A&E crisis, and shows the extent to which Chase Farm, Barnet and North Middlesex are already missing waiting time targets - it looks like it won't be long until we find out how the hospitals will cope without Chase Farm's A&E.

Health Secretary Jeremy Hunt is driving through closures of emergency departments across London to drive down costs. There is often a clinical argument, but it is always tied to money.

Keeping Chase Farm's A&E unit open under current levels of funding may be impossible. The solution is simple - the government needs to increase funding. Austerity should not be applied to a health service which is at breaking point.

Fresh food gold mine

ENFIELD sits on the very edge of London. Look north and you see the rolling fields of Hertfordshire. And right beneath our feet green fingered entrepreneurs are growing organic vegetables - in one fell swoop targeting the twin looming dangers of obesity and rising food prices.

As the cost of a shopping basket continues to soar does a self-styled ethical company like the Co-operative not have a duty to do all in its power to provide truly good value fresh produce to its shoppers?

If supermarkets actually engaged with local farmers and producers by paying a fair price for home-grown veg then the residents of Enfield could eat nutrient dense food plucked from the earth just a few miles from their doorstep.

Why should we settle for second rate mass-produced goods when we are sitting on a gold mine of fresh food?

A&E misuse may have cost Chase Farm dear

OUTSIDE one of Enfield's smaller supermarkets resided a canopy with a woman handing out leaflets entitled "Choose the right treatment".

She stated that people may think Chase Farm Hospital is closing.

This is not true and let's hope Enfield realises this and everyone gets that leaflet.

Four sections within the "what to do" leaflet do not warrant visiting accident and emergency, with two not including seeing a doctor.

As for the 111 number, going by experience and as a supposed toss-up between it or 999, would I take that chance?

In the Advertiser article of October 23, "Urgent care centres open up at hospitals", part of the statement indicated that any non-A&E patient who turns up will be sent to a GP, or an appointment made for them.

Could A&E at Chase Farm not have been set up to do the same?

Included was the statement about "ensuring people in the area receive the right treatment at the right place and the right time".

Nice to have an A&E ready!

For a very long time, complaints over people's misuse of A&Es have just been pushed under the carpet.

The urgent care and walk-in centres might not be necessary if this had been faced in the past.

Mr MD Cox

❑ I WISH to convey my sincere thanks to all the staff at the accident and emergency department of Chase Farm Hospital as well as all the staff of Napier Ward. They made my husband's stay a perfect one in every way.

He was rushed to Chase Farm by ambulance in the early hours of Friday morning.

The paramedics said my husband was likely to have a clot on his lung and needed oxygen.

It will be sad on December 9 when we have to face up to the downgrade of a hospital that not only saved my life when I had early cancer but also a very ill blind man.

None of the staff wants this to happen as they love their jobs.

'Cinderella' health service

IN 2011, the government promised to plough money into mental health provision and treat mental health with the same priority as physical health.

That was to stop the scandal of mental health being the Cinderella service.

Just like all the government's pledges on the NHS, this has also turned out to be a broken promise.

Our local mental health trust is facing some of the most serious challenges in its history.

The number of patients it is caring for has increased by 11 per cent but its funding has gone down by five per cent.

Local commissioners, strapped for cash themselves, spend seven per cent of their total budget on mental health services, compared to the London average of 12 per cent.

Again, Enfield residents being short-changed when it comes to health, even though we have some of the worst health inequalities in the country.

The chronic shortage of beds has forced patients requiring hospital admission to travel long journeys, in some cases hundreds of miles.

Mental health services are a long way from equality and with cuts right across the NHS, it really is a race to the bottom. Councillor Alev Cazimoglu Chairwoman, health and wellbeing scrutiny panel

Got room for one more at Christmas?

DO you have room for one more person this Christmas?

There are adult international students at UK universities who will be spending Christmas alone.

They would love to discover what Christmas is like in a British home.

Having a visitor from another part of the world will add interest to your festivities, possibly help to keep the peace when the family comes together, or, if you are alone, too, may give you a reason to celebrate Christmas properly.

Invitations are arranged through HOST, a well-established charity, whose local organisers aim to make a good match between student guests and volunteer hosts.

If you live near a university, your visitor may come just for the day.

Many are happy to travel to spend two or three days with their hosts.

Please visit www.hostuk.org or call HOST 020 7739 6292 to be put in touch with your area organiser.

If you are not available at Christmas, but would like to welcome an international student to your home, HOST arranges visits throughout the year.

OPINION

Pedestrian crossings are best solution

IN response to David Hughes, "Replace crossings with 20mph speed limit" (Letters, Advertiser, October 30).

Mr Hughes has long been an advocate of a 30mph speed limit and it has been effective in certain places, but replacing all pedestrian crossings in favour of a borough-wide 20mph zone is a step too far.

His case is weak when he compares the mobility of drivers with that of pedestrians with walking problems and says it is unfair that they will have to walk varying distances to a safe crossing place on a busy road.

Mr Hughes believes that 20mph will enable pedestrians to cross roads at will and at no risk.

But such a free-for-all involving cyclists, motor vehicles and pedestrians of all ages and fitness will depend on everyone's judgement to negotiate safe passage.

So, I am not convinced that it will be as safe as using a designated crossing that stops all traffic and gives priority to pedestrians.

The solution is to keep the crossings and provide more in response to local demand.

Build homes for Londoners

MOST new homes are far too expensive for the average person to buy. Two-thirds are bought up by investor landlords, many of them overseas property investors.

These investors aren't just driving up prices. They are also changing the type of homes that are built.

I have come across developments with a separate entrance and lifts for people living in the affordable homes.

Mayor Boris Johnson has refused my calls for him to clamp down on this. He must threaten to use his planning powers to make sure that homes are built for ordinary Londoners, not investors.

Environment Agency: we have to poison fish

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

FISH will be culled in the streams of lush woodlands in the north of the borough after a government body decreed that a non-native species living in waterways must be eradicated.

The Environment Agency will be pouring the fish poison Rotenone into the Wildwood Estate lake and Cuffley Brook in a bid to wipe out the topmouth gudgeon fish – which they have called the “most potentially damaging non-native fish species in western Europe”.

The poison, which the agency insists is harmless to humans, will kill all the fish and officers will then restock the waters with only native species.

But environmental campaigner Jill Simpson, who runs The Village Wholefood Store in Forty Hill, is concerned that the focus on exterminating of the fish will be at the detriment to the overall biodiversity of the waterways around Enfield.

Speaking to the Advertiser before the planned cull on Monday, she said: “These fish are very, very small and so the problem is that they’re a great food source for kingfishers.”

She is worried that kingfishers’ main source of food will be cut off.

“It looks as if this course of action is protecting recreational fishing over and above our biodiversity,” she added.

“Sometimes we have to look at the good non-native species do, for example the zebra mussel. It is dangerous to native species, but in certain environments it cleans the water.”

However, despite the nature lover’s concerns, the Environment Agency insists it has no choice.

A spokeswoman said: “It is very sad for us to have to kill native fish, along with the topmouth gudgeon, but we have to protect the long-term future of our native species.”

“Topmouth gudgeon are extremely difficult to get rid of by other means. Using nets to catch them, electric fishing, or transferring other fish out of the brook before the culling takes place, is too risky as topmouth fry, which can be the size of an eyelash, can be hidden away in the mouths and gills of other fish and get accidentally transferred to other waters.

“Culling all the fish is the only real guarantee that the topmouth gudgeon can be removed completely. And, while it was a tough decision to make, we believe this is the right thing to do.”

The agency also stressed that fish owners should never tip unwanted pet fish into waterways as it can wreak havoc on natural habitats.

Official probe launched after four incidents take place on same stretch of motorway in one week

Government to investigate M25 accidents

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

THE government has announced a full investigation into the recent spate of horrific traffic accidents on the M25.

Following a week of carnage on a stretch of the motorway where roadworks are taking place, Enfield North MP Nick de Bois appealed in the House of Commons for the government to take action before the stretch of road between junctions 23 and 25 becomes an accident blackspot.

In a bid to halt the rising death toll on the stretch of the motorway in Hertfordshire, Mr de Bois referred to a week in which four serious crashes on the road resulted in the death of a 60-year-old lorry driver and injuries to four workers.

He asked Transport Secretary Patrick McLoughlin: "Will the secretary of state urgently investigate the causes of those accidents, which might include the road management measures during the road expansion works, and let me know what he finds as soon as possible?"

Although it is the duty of the Highways Agency to investigate all serious road accidents rather than the government, Mr McLoughlin offered his support in seeking answers.

Call for action: Nick de Bois

He told the Commons: "My honourable friend has already written to me about this issue and brought my attention to those appalling incidents that caused the death, as well as incredible disruption to his area."

He added: "I want a full investigation into whether the points he has raised had any bearings on those accidents."

The parliamentary exchange comes after prominent local authority chiefs slammed the Highways Agency's ongoing roadworks on the stretch of motorway, suggesting that the lack of a hard shoulder jeopardised recovery attempts by the emergency services.

A spokesman from the Highways Agency said that an investigation into the accidents was under way and added: "In light of ongoing investigations it would not be appropriate to comment further."

MP is backing tougher terms for dog attacks

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

A DOG-LOVING MP who has campaigned for responsible ownership has welcomed a new law which will see tougher sentences for owners of dangerous dogs.

Enfield Southgate MP David Burrowes has repeatedly called for the law to place less emphasis on dangerous breeds and instead focus on giving better education to all dog owners.

The new legislation will see owners of whose animals kill handed sentences more in line with people who are found guilty of causing death by dangerous driving, meaning they could spend up to 14 years in prison.

The amendment to the Anti-social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Bill is set to be presented to the House of Lords before becoming law.

It will also include legislation to clamp down on owners whose dogs attack people in their home — which it is hoped will provide protection for postmen and other workers. And it will also contain specific guidance on punishing dog owners whose animals attack assistance dogs.

Mr Burrowes added: "I welcome the news that the government is increasing the maximum jail term for irresponsible dog owners.

"I believe it is important that the dog owners are held accountable for the dog's actions and punishment should be proportionate to the potential impact that a dog attack can have.

"This is especially true on attacks which happen to assistance dogs, such as guide dogs.

"The impact that this can have on the assisted person can be catastrophic and I fully believe that this should be reflected and emphasised when the amendment to the Anti-social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Bill is presented during the Lords committee stage."

Rallying round to save old oak tree

Decay threatens 800-year-old 'natural monument'

By Kim Inam
kim.inam@nlhnews.co.uk

A DISEASED 800-year-old tree which is threatening to topple over is being treated by experts this week.

The Minchenden Oak, which is more than 18 metres tall and close to a number of homes, is situated in Minchenden Oak Gardens in Waterfall Road, Southgate.

Tree surgeons have assessed the condition of the tree, which pre-dates the Magna Carta of 1215, and decided to try to treat the internal decay with a slow-releasing chemical which should help to encourage root growth.

The experts are also planning to remove some of the heavier limbs to prevent the oak from falling over.

The site, which was created as a garden of remembrance by Southgate Borough Council in 1934, will be closed to the public while the work is carried out.

Cabinet member for environment Chris Bond said: "Enfield Council has carried out extensive works over the years to protect and nurture this historic oak but it has now become apparent that we need to take further steps to protect this tree and prevent it from falling over, potentially endangering people and property near this structure.

"Our primary objective is to save this fantastic natural monument. Doing nothing is not an option because unless we take decisive action, this historic and much-loved tree will fall over.

ANNE-MARIE SANDERSON

Wood work: The Minchenden Oak is being treated for internal decay by experts

"If that were to happen, then it would cause extensive damage to the park and potentially damage nearby homes.

"The action we are proposing, while drastic, gives the tree a good chance of recovery and means that future generations can enjoy it for years to come."

Scheme to curb parents parking outside schools set for trial run

Not enough schools: Campaigner Gonul Daniels says parents are forced to drive children to school because of the distance involved

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

A PILOT scheme which could see people fined for dropping off their kids at the school gates has been slammed as creating "a no-win situation for parents" by an influential group.

The scheme means that number plate recognition readers, which are typically used to slap fines on drivers flouting the rules of the road, could be set up around school gates in the borough to catch out parents lingering over dropping their children off at school.

While the technology is only being tested for the time being, if the scheme is rolled out borough-wide then the council will use it to clamp down on congestion around schools.

But Gonul Daniels, who is part of the South West Enfield Action Trust lobby group, believes that it is the local authority which is partly to blame for gridlocked roads around schools.

"The traffic congestion is a direct result of the local authority's policies," she told the Advertiser. "Enfield has not created enough schools in the borough, forcing us to drive children to school."

"We wouldn't have to drive in the first place if there were enough school places because, really, children should be walking."

Mrs Daniels, who campaigns for local school places for local children, along with her colleagues in the South West Enfield Action Trust, agrees with the council that school traffic should be curbed and parents and children should be encouraged to walk to school.

"For example, in Walker School, in Southgate, you have parents who are trying to exploit the system," she said.

"They rent for a short period of time on the doorstep, then they move away again, so it is more likely they would be driving their children to school – meaning local parents, who could walk the short distance and have always lived nearby, don't get a look-in."

"It really is a no-win situation for parents," Mrs Daniels insisted.

An Enfield Council spokeswoman said: "If the pilot scheme is successful, these cameras could be deployed as part of wider efforts to tackle irresponsible parking around our schools and reduce the number of deaths and serious injuries on our roads."

Fire rips through industrial estate

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

A FIRE blazed for five hours at an industrial estate in Edmonton on Thursday.

About 100 firefighters, from stations across north and east London, tackled the blaze at the industrial warehouses in Advent Way, Edmonton, from just after 3am.

It was brought under control by 8am – but fire crews remained at the scene to dampen down hot spots and make sure no deep-seated pockets of fire remained.

John Tovey, fire station manager at Silver-town, in Newham, east London, said: “The fire affected a range of single-storey industrial units and crews worked really hard to get it under control.

“As well as 15 fire engines, we had two aerial appliances so we could tackle the fire from above as well as from the ground.

“Fortunately, the buildings affected are located on an industrial estate and are well away from any residential properties.

“The industrial estate is also close to the busy North Circular Road, but thankfully the fire didn’t affect any major roads in the area.”

The cause of the fire is being investigated.

Environment matters

AS winter approaches the hot political topic of energy costs will inflame millions of consumers.

Although for some the choice is between heating and eating, most families exist at budgetary margins where Mr Micawber's principle holds true.

Charles Dickens' character said: "Annual income twenty pounds, annual expenditure twenty pounds nought and six, result – misery."

Increasing fuel bills means more misery for millions and any interventions that can be made should be.

If you suggest that cheap energy risks extravagance, remember that affluence, not poverty, feeds climate change.

Keeping energy prices down to help the lowest paid will not increase carbon dioxide emissions.

Actually, putting a little more disposable income in the hands of the least well-off would do more to stimulate sustainable growth in GDP than inflating house prices and "rewarding" bankers and chief executives.

Keeping energy bills manageable could achieve a double whammy, so, what can be done?

The government's answer is to make "switching" easier. I've tried. Firstly, involuntarily, as my ethical energy provider was swallowed up by a company which, through a series of aggressive takeovers, became part of the big six monopoly.

Keeping energy prices down to help the lowest paid could boost the economy

My second attempt achieved savings in the first year followed by a ludicrous price rise once the introductory offer expired.

This year I signed up to The Big London Energy Switch. Enfield is one of 23 councils London wide to participate in this collective action to keep costs low by auctioning a mega contract to the cheapest energy provider.

The next auction is on Tuesday and for more information visit www.biglondonenergyswitch.org.uk. I'm optimistic that being one of thousands of voices will exert downward pressure on prices.

Better still, Enfield Council, in partnership with British Gas, is currently making thousands of council homes energy efficient, not only reducing bills for the poorest households but also creating local apprenticeships and jobs. That's what I call sustainable intervention.

Michael Lavender

Enfield Conservative group leader

Government has to take harsh measures to help return country to growth

WE have been living beyond our means. The baby boomer generation has spent its inheritance, increased its disposable income by remortgaging properties and buying homes to rent with negligible deposits and interest-only mortgages and is enjoying pensions paid for by future generations.

To make matters worse, so have nations' governments, which have borrowed to their sustainable capacity – and some beyond.

The return to normality can be achieved either with a bump (as in Greece) or with an attempted soft landing (as in the UK).

That soft landing, however, involves wages falling in real terms and a rising cost of living, with increasing food and fuel prices and childcare costs. The tax take has reduced, but incomes are being squeezed.

The Labour Party is making great play about this, presenting it as a government failure.

This is not a failure. It is a necessary means of returning the country to economic growth, increasing employment and repaying debt. However, this is not a popular message for the government to deliver.

The Office for National Statistics recently examined the financial circumstances of households over the period 1977 to 2011.

It revealed the average disposable income of a working-age household at today's prices doubled over 35 years.

It revealed that pensioners have progressively become better off, but families with children have fared less well.

In 1977, households with children made up more than half of the population's middle-income band. Presently, it is less than a third.

However, pensioners, who in 1977 accounted for only nine per cent of the middle band, now make up 31 per cent in 2011.

The challenge for the government and for Enfield Council is therefore to focus services on where they are most needed, to reduce their costs and reduce the tax burden.

Love Christmas ball on your doorstep

TICKETS are on sale for the second Love Your DoorStep charity Christmas Ball.

This year's event takes place at Forty Hall, in Forty Hill, Enfield, on Saturday, November 30.

It will be raising money for brain injury charity the Children's Trust and the central theme of the ball will be glamour.

The festive celebrations include a meal, live entertainment from Enjo Jazz Orchestra and singing by local performers Maria Evangelou and Ellamore, as well as a DJ playing well into the night.

Founder and chief executive of Love

Your DoorStep Emma Rigby told the Advertiser: "Our Christmas Ball is a good way of enabling people to give to a good cause while having fun and, importantly, bring the community together at this special time of year."

"We chose the Children's Trust because they have a local representative on our group."

"Although they are a national charity, they have done a lot of work with families in Enfield. They have made a huge difference."

"And one of the people who has benefited will speak at the ball about the rehabilitation work they did with him."

As well as the entertainment there will be a charity auction for the trust at the black-tie ball.

It begins at 7pm with a drinks reception in the main hall of the Forty Hall estate before the fun continues with a two-course meal followed by a dessert buffet as well as tea and coffee.

Emma added: "We invite local people and businesses to support the event and to celebrate our great community spirit here in Enfield."

Last year the event raised £1,700 for Noah's Ark Children's Hospice with more than 200 tickets sold.

Tickets cost £50 and are available from www.loveyourdoorstep.co.uk

Pop along to fun family fitness day

By Kim Inam

kim.inam@nlhnews.co.uk

A ONE-DAY exercise extravaganza will be taking the borough by storm next month as part of a healthy living drive for families.

The Pop Up Fitness event, which will include 16 fun taster classes and a healthy living competition, will take place at Merryhills Primary School on Saturday, December 7.

The all-day event at the school, in Bincote Road, Enfield, will see members of Enfield's Fit team undertake their second pop-up event, which as well as striving to inspire families to get fit together is supporting Noah's Ark Children's Hospice.

Yoga guru Cathy Underwood galvanised the team, which includes Ibby Adem, Isobel Cripps, Verity Dent, Mary Huckle and Nicholas Kyriacou, in a bid to keep the London 2012 Olympic spirit alive.

She told the Advertiser: "This year I have been testing out inviting mums to bring their kids to my yoga classes, that's been really popular. It's a nice bonding experience for the family unit."

"Usually, there are lots of events about adults inspiring kids but there are lots that kids do to inspire adults and that kind of magic comes from school."

The Enfield's Fit team are now touring the borough's primary schools to promote the event, which features a competition for children to design a healthy day plan for their family, including meals and exercise and the winners of which will receive £50 worth of Toys R Us vouchers.

On the day, participants can try 30 minutes of Thai boxing, zumba, body conditioning and pilates and there will also be football taster sessions and martial arts for children as well as a yoga class aimed at people with disabilities.

Cathy added: "It is more inspiring exercising together in a class than doing something on your own."

"With other people you are mingling, you're talking and sharing something together."

There will also be performances by dance group EN2 Krew before the winners of the competition will be announced.

Advance tickets cost £10 from www.yoga4mums.com/pop-up-fitness. They will cost £12 on the day while under-16s get free entry.

□ To enter the healthy living competition to win £50 of Toys R Us vouchers, send your child's plan to Pop Up Fitness, 78 Goat Lane, Enfield, EN1 4UB, before midnight on December 5.

There are two categories – four to seven-year-olds and eight to 12-year-olds.

Pupils go green to help others

Primary students have a uniform approach to Mitzvah Day celebrations

By James Brilliant

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

PRIMARY school pupils will be giving a helping hand to the community and a children's charity when they mark Mitzvah Day this Friday.

Youngsters from Wolfson Hillel Primary School, in Southgate, will be making cards and painting pictures for a children's cancer charity, as well as writing letters to members of the armed forces.

Others will be helping in the garden of the school in Chase Road, planting bulbs for elderly people.

Younger students will receive a helping hand with their reading from older pupils.

All of the pupils will wear green, the colour of the campaign across the world, and will bring a packet of non-perishable food with them to send to either a homeless shelter or Gift, a charity encouraging volunteering in the community.

Money raised on the day will be sent to a children's charity.

Enfield Southgate MP David Burrowes has been invited to visit the school.

"This is a day for children to think of others," said headteacher Kirsten Jowett. "By performing Mitzvot (good deeds) the children understand how important it is to do something special – not just giving money but doing something that is meaningful."

"Our school has a wonderful record of raising hundreds of pounds for many different charities but Mitzvah Day is something the children look forward to as a way of giving in different ways.

"We are always delighted our local MP to support us and his special green Mitzvah Day T-shirt is ready for him."

Mr Burrowes said: "I am looking forward to visiting Wolfson Hillel and taking part in their Mitzvah Day activities.

"Mitzvah Day is an important day, not only for the Jewish community, but also for our community as a whole.

"This annual day of social action allows those taking part to give their time and also their money to make a big difference in the lives of others and I am very pleased to be taking part."

Have you got the drive to succeed?

GOLFERS are being challenged to improve their drive at Trent Park Golf Course later this month.

The Driver Challenge on Tuesday, November 26, is a free event at the club in Bramley Road and no official handicap is needed.

The competition consists of just 12 shots and will test golfers' accuracy from the tee as they are asked to hit shots of 175 to 200 yards.

A live leader board will show the latest results with all of the golfers going head to head.

The event begins at 3pm and balls will be provided. For more details, call 020 8367 4653 or visit www.trentparkgolf.co.uk

FAMILY ANNOUNCEMENTS

Playing a round of golf will help people back into work

By Hannah Crouch

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

GOLFERS are to be given the chance to tee off at a fundraiser this week in a bid to help get the unemployed back into work.

Skills for Life: Making a Difference, a scheme which supports the unemployed through training and one-to-one mentoring, is hosting a charity golf tournament at Bush Hill Park Golf Club on Friday.

Founder and director Vijay Sujan, of Corby Crescent, Oakwood, witnessed first-hand the frustration of not being able to find work when he was made redundant aged 64.

Although he was able to find another job ten months later, Mr Sujan wanted to use his personal experience to help others struggling to get work, so he launched the project in 2011.

He said: "There are so many brilliant and smart kids in Enfield and if we don't help these kids now they will become a lost generation, and that is a very sad thought."

In July, the scheme raised £11,000 from a cricket match which resulted in two young adults and a man in his 50s getting back into employment.

One of those was 20-year-old Tinashe Mahachi, who found work at Carrington Home Appliances, in Bounces Road, Edmonton, as a trainee engineer.

Mr Mahachi was looking for a part-time job while he studied at college and it took Skills for Life just one week to find him work.

He said: "Without Skills for Life, I would still be sitting at home [playing] on my Xbox with no job."

"I would seriously recommend any unemployed young person to get involved with the scheme."

The project is self-funded, mainly by Mr Sujan, so events such as this Friday's golf tournament allow it to continue working within the community.

The target is to have 72 players taking part in an 18-hole stableford competition and places are still available.

Entry to the competition costs £75, which includes a round of golf and a three-course dinner.

To buy tickets or for more information, call Peter Jeffery on 07759 879 556 or visit Skills for Life's website at www.sfl-mad.org

Commit to a ticket for dynamic show

By Tim Trew

tim.trew@nlhnews.co.uk

"DO you like good music, that sweet soul music?" asked Arthur Conley in his 1967 singles chart hit.

If so, then the latest incarnation of The Commitments, Roddy Doyle's best-selling book, award-winning film and now dynamic West End production, cannot be recommended highly enough.

It comes with a warning, however, for those of a sensitive nature – the dialogue, which is witty and sometimes sad, is distinctly post-watershed.

The plot is thin, notwithstanding repeated references to "the hardest-working band in the world" brightening up the mundanity of living on Dublin's north side in 1986.

But the magnificent music makes up for that, led by the powerhouse voice of Killian Donnelly as the vain and supremely vibrant Declan "Deco" Cuffe.

He is backed by the sassy vocals and dancing of The Commitmentettes (Jessica Cervi, Stephanie McKeon and Sarah O'Connor) – but the band veers between exuberant celebrations, when a number comes together, and self-inflicted destruction.

Drummer Billy Mooney (Brian Gilligan) walks out as a result of another clash with Deco, then the old'un, trumpet player Joe "The Lips" Fagan (Ben Fox), announces he is returning to America to tour with Joe Tex, despite the latter's death a few years earlier!

But encouraged by his by-now supportive parents, the band's manager Jimmy Rabbitte (Denis Grindel) changes from "Mr Pitiful" to regain enthusiasm for his soul revolution.

And in a rousing finale to an electrifying performance, Deco and company get the audience out of their seats with the mighty Mustang Sally and tumultuous Try A Little Tenderness.

Hands and feet may have been sore by the end of this joyous salute to the sounds of Atlantic, Stax and Tamla Motown – but it was well worth any discomfort.

The Commitments is at the Palace Theatre in Shaftesbury Avenue until January 26, 2014. To book tickets, call the box office on 0844 412 4656.

Footloose offers a slice of feel-good nostalgia

By Hannah Crouch

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

A "REAL nostalgia trip back to the 1980s" is promised in a new production of Footloose the Musical.

The classic, which includes the hits Footloose, Holding Out For A Hero and Let's Hear It For The Boy, is being performed by the cast of the Finchley and Friern Barnet Operatic Society at the Intimate Theatre this week.

Based on the 1984 film starring Hollywood actor Kevin Bacon, the musical at the theatre, in Green Lanes, Palmers Green, follows the story of teenager Ren McCormack who moves to a small, conservative town from Chicago and attempts to challenge the ban on dancing through music.

Chris Henry, publicity manager for the society, said: "Footloose is a fantastic show full of really fun and uplifting songs that for many will be a real nostalgia trip back to the 1980s.

"We decided on this show not just because of the film, but because it's a story that focuses strongly on a community – a community in this case affected by music and dancing.

"That is what we are at the end of the day, a community group who put on shows for the love of performing and want to bring entertainment to our north London community."

That's the way to do it: The cast of Footloose in rehearsal

The singers taking part vary in age, with the older cast members taking on the roles of the adults and the younger ones playing the rebellious teenagers.

The production is recommended for fans of all-singing and all-dancing musicals, promising to be a fun show that will whisk audiences back to the mid-1980s when the film was first released.

Performances began yesterday and continue until Saturday when there will also be a matinee.

Tickets cost £12/£13, with concessions available, and are available from the box office on 020 8482 6923 or by visiting www.ticketsource.co.uk/ffbos

SUPPLY AND DEMAND

If you have a property to sell but are wondering whether it is a good time to sell; well the answer is probably yes. It is likely that early next year a lot of people will put their properties on the market and the current high demand will begin to be met.

If you put your property on the market now you will benefit from unusually high demand combined with unusually low competition. That situation cannot last so make the most of it now. Please telephone 020 8370 4800 for a free valuation

YOUR HOME MAY BE REPOSSESSED IF YOU DO NOT KEEP UP REPAYMENTS ON YOUR MORTGAGE OR ANY OTHER DEBT SECURED ON IT.

*Terms and conditions apply. Any incentive is subject to using the services of a Fairview approved IFA and panel solicitor/licensed conveyancer. With the Help to Buy scheme you can purchase your new home for just 80% of the full purchase price. A minimum of 5% deposit - equating to £13,500 - is required. The outstanding balance is financed through an equity loan funded by the HCA, which is interest free for the first five years. After 5 years, the equity loan will be subject to a fee due to the HCA of 1.75% per annum on the outstanding amount of the equity loan and is paid back as a percentage value of the Open Market Value after 25 years or subsequent resale, whichever occurs earliest. Help to Buy is available on selected, limited properties only. No other incentives are available. An arrangement fee is required by the purchaser. Journey times and distances approximate. Details correct at time of going to press. Image representative only.

Love it or hate it?

You'll probably recognise this building as the Cosmopolitan Court development on the west of the A10 and the corner of Lincoln Road.

Looks wise it's a little bit like Marmite, you either love it or hate it, but does it make a good investment?

A few months ago, one clever purchaser snapped up a two bedroom flat here for £175,000. With an EN1 postcode, two bedrooms (one with an en suite), secure entry and allocated parking, that's great value.

From a rental perspective this flat could now achieve around £1,100 per calendar month.

That would give a gross yield of 7.5% which is impressive.

This flat is also less than 1 mile from three over ground stations and Enfield Town Shopping Centre, so it will be attractive to potential tenants. If your property is attractive to tenants then it is less likely to stand empty for long between tenancies, and these empty or void periods rate in the top three concerns of landlords, along with arrears and property damage.

The key to an investment like this is of course the purchase price, so that you start making money as soon as you buy the property.

Please call me if you have questions about your next property investment or how to successfully let the property you already have.

WYNCHMORE PROPERTY SERVICES ARE YOUR LOCAL SPECIALIST LETTING AGENCY

As one of the local areas Letting and Property Management specialists, established in 1994, Wynchmore Property Services, now seen as one of the local leading independent Letting Agents, are celebrating their 19th anniversary year.

Managing Director, Jeff Wynne said, "This is a very exciting time for Wynchmore Property Services as we celebrate 19 years in the local area, letting thousands of properties with many satisfied clients both Landlords and Tenants alike."

Unlike most agencies who are Estate Agents with a Lettings department we specialise in Letting and Property Management only. We do not sell properties therefore, we concentrate solely on lettings. Most of our business over the last 19 years has been by recommendation or word of mouth and most of our clients have been with us for many years. We also have a lot of repeat business.

We let properties in the traditional way. All our flat and house Tenants are credit checked and fully referenced. We only deal with professional or student lettings. As one of the largest agents in the area for room lettings we always have a constant demand for good quality rooms, but we also let many studios, 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 bed flats and houses.

We belong to the Association of Residential Letting Agents (ARLA), The National Association of Estate Agents - Letting Division (NAEA), The National Approved Letting Scheme (NALS), the Safe Agent Scheme and the Property Ombudsman Scheme and we are able to offer Rent Guarantee and legal expenses plus Buildings and Contents Insurance for your complete peace of mind.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all of our past and present clients for their continued business and support and look forward to welcoming you in the future.

If you are thinking of Letting your property or looking for a property call Wynchmore Property Services efficient, enthusiastic team today. wynchmoreproperty.co.uk

LONDON BOROUGH OF ENFIELD
LICENSING ACT 2003
Notice of Application For New Premises Licence or Club
Premises Certificate Application
NOTICE IS GIVEN that Zloty Deli Ltd has applied to the London Borough of Enfield for a New Premises Licence, licensable activities as follows:
Supply of Alcohol Monday-Saturday 8am-11pm, Sunday 9am-10pm.
Persons living or involved in the business in the vicinity of the premises or bodies representing them who wish to make a representation against the application, must do so by specifying the grounds of their representation by email to licensing@enfield.gov.uk or in writing to the Licensing Team, PO Box 57, Civic Centre, Silver Street, Enfield, EN1 3XH WITHIN TWENTY EIGHT DAYS FROM THE DATE OF THE APPLICATION MADE ON 5th November, 2013.
Petitions shall state on each page the grounds for representation and notice to signatories that the petition will be copied to the applicant. Each page must be dated and signatories must print their full name and address.
On the day after the application is made a completed notice must be exhibited on a conspicuous part of the premises where it can be easily seen and read by persons in the street, 24 hours a day. That notice must be kept exhibited for not less than 28 consecutive days.
It is an offence to make a false statement in connection with an application and a person guilty of an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level five on the standard scale.
The application is posted on the Council's website www.enfield.gov.uk under Licensing (L).

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(I)' etc. in the advertisement.

3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

- (a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
- (b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
- (c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.

4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.

8. All gross advertising rates (except classified line and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.

14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect of an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.

Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection
The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies.

However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.

Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Tindle Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.

Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

TOWNSEND: MORE GOALS WILL COME

By Dominique Stafford

sport.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

ANDROS TOWNSEND insists that it is only a matter of time before Tottenham Hotspur start finding the net on a regular basis following Sunday's 1-0 defeat at home to Newcastle United.

Spurs have struggled in front of goal of the season in the Premier League, and the weekend's reversal means that they have scored just nine times in 11 matches in the league.

However, while Townsend does admit that this is a worry, he remains confident that it will not be long until their fortunes change in front of goal.

"If we are winning 1-0 then we will take that because it is three points, but if we are losing it is a problem," he said. "We are a relatively new side, we are a young side and we are still getting to know each other and learn each other's games. Goals will come I'm sure of it – hopefully sooner rather than later.

"We have just got to focus on our results and in January, February and March we will see where it takes us and start looking at other results, but at the moment it is all about what we do."

Tottenham's inability to find the net on Sunday was largely down to an inspired performance from Newcastle keeper Tim Krul, who was named man of the match after making a string of spectacular saves.

And Spurs keeper Brad Friedel was full of praise for the efforts of his opposite number.

"Krul was outstanding," he said. "We were very poor, by our standards, in the first half but we still carved out two or three decent chances, and he made two great saves in the first half.

"In the second half there were consequences of balls just hitting him or him making great saves, and it's a day that he'll remember I'm sure.

"As a goalkeeper we've all had them. He's had one in this match so he is going to go home feeling a million dollars, that's for sure."

The contest saw Friedel make his

No need to panic: Andros Townsend is confident that Spurs' fortunes in front of goal will improve first league appearance of the season as Hugo Lloris was not medically cleared to play after being knocked unconscious at Everton the previous week – when the Frenchman was controversially allowed to stay on until the end of the match.

"Hugo wished me luck, we have a really good relationship," Friedel added. "If I play, he really wants me to do well. If he plays, I really want him to do well.

"When I signed for Spurs they were looking for a long-term number one, and they have found a very good one. If I need to deputise, I will try to do it to the best of my ability."

Lloris is however expected to make his comeback for France on Friday night when they face Ukraine in the first leg of their World Cup play-off.

Boss determined to keep hold of Defoe

TOTTENHAM HOTSPUR head coach Andre Villas-Boas is adamant that he has no intention of selling Jermain Defoe in January despite his lack of playing time in the Premier League so far this season.

Despite finding the net on a regular basis in the Europa League, the England international striker has only started once in the league – otherwise being restricted to substitute appearances.

With the World Cup coming up next year, Defoe will be desperate to feature more regularly in order to force his way into Roy Hodgson's England squad for the event, and Villas-Boas insists that he will have ample opportunities to impress.

"We are pretty happy with the goals he is producing," Villas-Boas said. "He is on nine goals already so it is a great start for him and it doesn't change our perspective regarding his position in the team.

"What has been happening is we've given opportunities for players who have played in the Europa League to break into the Premier League team.

"A couple of them have received a vote of confidence to continue to play and Jermain played in the game against West Ham.

"Obviously everyone wants to play consecutively and get matches in the Premier League, but I don't think he will leave."

Defoe continued his fine record in the Europa League this season by grabbing a 67th-minute penalty in Spurs' 2-1 victory over FC Sheriff on Thursday – becoming Tottenham's all-time leading scorer in European football in the process with his 23rd goal in continental competition.

Skolars youngsters nominated for Celebrating Sport Award

THE achievements of the London Skolars' under-19 side have been recognised with a nomination in the junior team of the year category in the Haringey Celebrating Sport Awards.

The nomination caps an outstanding season for the young rugby league side, who swept the board as they claimed the London Nines, Youth Challenge Cup and Grand Final in addition to winning their league.

In addition to this, four of the squad were rewarded for their performances in the under-19s league by making their first-team debuts in the Northern Rail Cup clash at Rochdale.

"It's fantastic for their achievements to be recognised outside the club environment," said head coach Matt Cuss. "Haringey has a rich heritage of sporting success, and the Celebrating Sports Awards are a true celebration of all the sporting activity that is going on throughout the borough.

"The evening itself looks set to be fantastic, and it will top it off if the boys are named as winners on the night."

The awards ceremony takes place at Tottenham Hotspur's White Hart Lane ground on Tuesday, with the Skolars hoping to emulate their success of 2011 when they were named club of the year.

School Meals in Enfield

Could your children get their lunch for free?

Don't miss out on free school meals!

The advertisement features two smiling children, a girl and a boy, both in school uniforms, holding plates of food. The background is a collage of school-related items: a watercolor palette with various colored paints, several colored pencils, and a spiral-bound notebook. The notebook has the title 'School Meals in Enfield' written in blue marker, followed by the question 'Could your children get their lunch for free?' and the statement 'Don't miss out on free school meals!' in green and blue marker. There are also small drawings of vegetables like broccoli, tomatoes, and peas, and a fish, scattered around the text on the notebook.

Free School Meals in Enfield?

Parents – did you know that recent research* shows that:

- Whether families are paying for school meals or are entitled to them for free, children are more likely to concentrate in the classroom in the afternoon after eating healthy school lunches in a pleasant environment
- This also improves their health and their ability to make better food choices

Could your children get their lunch for free?

- For your children to be entitled to Free School Meals you must be getting at least one of the following:
- Income Support
- Income-based Jobseeker's Allowance
- Income-related Employment and Support Allowance
- Support under Part VI of the Immigration and Asylum Act 1999
- The Guarantee element of State Pension Credit
- Child Tax Credit, provided you are not claiming Working Tax Credit and have an annual income (as assessed by HM Revenue & Customs) that does not exceed £16,190

Important reminder:

If any of the above criteria applies to you and you have a child/children in Reception or Year 7 you might also be eligible for a School Uniform Grant.

To find out if your child/children are eligible for a free school meal, or the Uniform Grant, ask at your school's office or ring the Enfield Council Pupil Benefits Helpline on: 020 8379 5367

The Parent Engagement Panel provides crucial support for parents and communities in Enfield

The members of PEP have done a huge amount in the short time the project has existed including;

- speaking at conferences
- attending Council meetings to represent the views of parents
- undertaking training to become Parent Champions
- volunteering with organisations like Home Start and National Childcare Trust (NCT).

Since April 2013 there has been a significant change. Sam Morris (Enfield Council’s Participation and Involvement Officer) is now involved in the project. His role is to support the PEP to grow in Enfield, make sure PEP members are active across the whole Borough, and ensure parents have real ownership of the PEP and the work it does. Here are some of the things the PEP has and will be focussing on:

- The PEP is undertaking a recruitment drive this summer. They recently ran a successful stand at Play Day in Enfield Town Park, asking parents who are interested in becoming a PEP member to sign up.
- Sam and his team will be working with new recruits and current members to identify training opportunities and to see where PEP members can make a real difference in their communities.

- A PEP Steering Group have been re-established to make sure the PEP is progressing as a project and the right people are involved in the planning... most importantly the PEP members themselves.

“These are exciting times for the PEP and although there are a number of changes to the project, I really believe that the parents will be able to make a big contribution to their own communities. We have already seen a number of PEP members and Parent Champions gain employment through the PEP”. Sam Morris

Want to get involved?

Are you a parent living in Enfield, who is interested in joining a voluntary Parent Engagement Panel within your local area?

Are you willing to go that extra mile and become a local Parent Champion trained by Enfield Council to offer advice, guidance and informal support to local parents within your area?

If so - let us know by emailing PEP@enfield.gov.uk or call/text 07950 624369

Parents - do you have a two year old and could they be eligible for the Enfield Terrific Twos programme – up to 15 hours a week of free early learning sessions for eligible two year olds?

What is the Terrific Twos?

In September 2013 the Government expanded the number of free early learning places for some two year olds starting the term following their second birthday. The free places will be offered through all Children’s Centres with daycare, many private day nurseries, pre schools, playgroups and some childminders. Each child will be eligible for up to 15 hours a week of free early learning sessions.

The Enfield Terrific Twos is not a universal offer and parents will have to satisfy the Terrific Twos criteria in order for their two year old to be eligible for a place. Please log onto our website or call the Terrific Twos Team for more information.
